

Charter affiliate status can be designated to countries where budgets and salaries preclude paying individual memberships if a designated representative of a country applies for that status and pays the equivalent annual dues of an active membership. ACE has also developed relationships with Russia and the Ukraine, establishing agreements of cooperation with both countries to share knowledge.